

Slave Lake Regional Subdivision Development Appeal Board

Member Information

The purpose of the Slave Lake Regional Subdivision Development Appeal Board is to hear appeals from decisions made by the development authority and subdivision authority of the respective municipality of which the filed appeal originates from. The board is comprised of five municipalities, that appoint public members to represent their community.

There are no members of Council on this board.

How to become a member?

Appointment of Town of Slave Lake members to the Slave Lake Regional Subdivision Development Appeal Board is done by Town of Slave Lake Council.

To apply to become a member, fill out the form located on the Town of Slave Lake website Form Center • Application for Council Boards and Committees.

Member Commitment:

The term of a member appointment is 3 years.

Appointed members of the Regional Subdivision Development Appeal Board are required to take and complete the Subdivision Development Appeal Board Training.

Appointed members may be required to attend appeal hearings that could take place within the following municipalities:

- Big Lakes County
- Municipal District of Lesser Slave River
- Town of High Prairie
- Town of Swan Hills
- Town of Slave Lake